

Byram Shubert Library Update • December 19, 2008

The opening of the Byram Shubert Library is quickly approaching. Millwork is finishing up; interior painting is almost done; and the bookshelves and furniture are being installed. Below is the services timeline for the next few weeks:

December 10: Beginning of extended loan period

For the convenience of those borrowing Byram Shubert materials during the transition to the renovated space, the loan period has been extended to 6 weeks from the usual 3 weeks for books, books on CDs, music CDs, and DVD documentaries; the 1-week loan period for DVD feature films remains in effect.

December 29: Closing

Byram Shubert Library temporary space closes. Library materials will be moved into the renovated building from storage and the temporary space. We thank you in advance for your cooperation during this brief period.

Returning materials: While the library is closed materials can be placed in the book drop at the temporary space or returned to the Greenwich Library, the Cos Cob Library, or the Perrot Library. Materials can also be renewed by telephone at 625-6524 or on-line at www.greenwichlibrary.org.

Pick-up for Holds: Byram Shubert Library patrons can pick up their holds at Greenwich Library.

Mid-January: Opening

The Byram Shubert Library opens to the public. The exact date is pending receipt of all final town approvals.
