APRIL 2017

Friends Children's Show

History's Alive! Thomas Edison Saturday, April 22 Cole Auditorium 2 pm

The Friends of Greenwich Library present a Theatreworks USA performance in which Broadway veteran Patrick Garner channels Thomas Edison. In this hands-on interactive program, the greatest inventor of all time will engage students as they help him recreate some of his most famous experiments.

Along the way, 'Edison' shares several secrets that students can utilize in their day-to-day lives: the importance of hard work, the value of mistakes, the ability to turn liabilities into assets, and the necessity of enjoying one's work.

This 60-minute performance is for children grades 1 - 6 and is open to all at no charge through the support of the Friends of Greenwich Library. Assigned seating tickets are limited to six per person and will be available at noon in the Auditorium. Return at 1:50 pm when the doors will open. Contact the Friends Office at (203) 622-7938 for more information.

AuthorsLive

Conventional wisdom dictates that the U.S. entered World War II in retaliation for the bombing of Pearl Harbor on December 8, 1941. However, in *1941: Fighting the Shadow War - A Divided America in A World at War*, historian Marc Wortman reveals the ways in which America played an increasingly significant and clandestine role in the war in the months and years prior to officially joining the battle. Author Marc Wortman will discuss his book on Wednesday, April 19 in the Meeting Room at 7 pm.

He is an independent historian, award-winning freelance journalist and author of two previous books. For more information contact Stephen Schmidt at (203) 625-6527.

Co-sponsored by the Retired Men's Association of Greenwich.

Ian Toll

Naval historian Ian Toll will be lecturing on his work Seapower and American History in the Meeting Room at 7 pm on Wednesday, April 26.

Mr. Toll is noted for *Six Frigates: The Epic History of the Founding of the U.S. Navy* (2007 Samuel Eliot Morrison Award) as well as the first two parts of a planned trilogy on the Pacific War, *Pacific Crucible* (2012 Northern California Book Award for Nonfiction) and New York Times best-seller, *The Conquering Tide*.

Earlier in his career, Toll was a political aide and speechwriter to U.S. Senator Paul Sarbanes and New York Lieutenant Governor Stan Lundine. He has also served as a juror for the National Endowment for the Humanities, a cultural ambassador for the U.S. State Department, and a lecturer at the Naval War College.

For more information contact Joseph Williams at (203) 622-7961.

*World Affairs ForumGreat Decisions:
France & the EU*Monday, April 24
Cole Auditorium 7 pm

Europe's future lies in the hands of French voters this May. How did the history of France and Europe bring us to this moment? After Brexit, a wave of terrorist attacks, and the rise of nationalist populism, how well equipped are the French to tackle the challenges they face at home and throughout the continent?

Presented by Herrick Chapman, Associate Professor of History & French Studies, Department of History & Institute of French Studies, New York University.

Whim'n Rhythm
Yale Acapella GroupSunday, April 9Cole Auditorium 3:30 pm*

As of 1981, Yale's vibrant acapella scene featured a dozen underclassman groups of every variety. However, seven senior women felt that a key part of their musical experience was missing – a senior group. These seven seniors founded Whim n' Rhythm as an answer to the decades-old tradition of The Whiffenpoofs. Thirty-four years later, the 14 singers of Whim n' Rhythm represent the best and most experienced female musicians of the senior class. Post-commencement, the group traditionally takes a four-to-six week World Tour, hitting nearly every continent.

Doors open at 3 pm. For information contact Music Librarian David Waring at dwarding@greenwichlibrary.org, call (203) 622-7917, or visit www.greenwichlibrary.org/music.

Petite Concert*Tuesday, April 18
Children's Room 10:30 am

These 30-minute live concerts are for newborns to preschoolers. Petite Concerts are informal and interactive and contain well known (and very short) musical selections with violinists Chi-Chi Bestmann and Chie Yoshinaka. At the end of the performance there is an instrument discovery session for children.

No registration is required. Please contact the Children's Room at (203) 622-7940.

Ashforth ConcertEthos PercussionSunday, April 30Cole Auditorium 1 pm

Ashforth Children's Concert Series presents Ethos Percussion, America's premier percussion quartet who will present an energetic potpourri of musical genres from around the globe. Highly regarded for their Western chamber music expertise, individual members are also virtuosos on exotic instruments from Indonesia, West Africa, India and the Middle East. Their unique performances seamlessly transport global influences into Western chamber music to create a visually and aurally compelling experience.

The Ashforth Concert Series is designed to introduce children to classical music performance. The concert is open to the public at no charge through the support of Georgie and Henry A. Ashforth. Curiosity Concerts, a project of the Greenwich Arts Council, is presenting its third season of classical music concerts for families. The concerts are performed by professional national and local musicians.

For more information and to register for free tickets please visit www.curiosityconcerts.org.

The Constructions of James Grashow

March 16 - April 26

American artist James Grashow's extraordinary corrugated board sculptures, along with his intricate woodcut prints, are to be featured in a solo show at Flinn Gallery. Corrugated World: The Art of James Grashow, provides us with a rare glimpse into the creative mind of an artist.

Grashow, who earned both BFA and MFA degrees from Pratt Institute in New York City and has lived in Connecticut for 40 years, has exhibited widely at museums and galleries, including the DeCordova Sculpture Park & Museum, MassMOCA, Aldrich Contemporary Art Museum and New Britain Museum of American Art.

Art dealer Allan Stone began representing Grashow in 1965, and Stone's daughter, filmmaker Olympia Stone, made Grashow the subject of her documentary film, The Cardboard Bernini (2012). The film documents the creation, and calculated destruction, of Grashow's largest project, a cardboard replica of Bernini's great fountain in Rome. The documentary, which provides viewers with extraordinary insight into Grashow's hopes, fears, inspiration and creative process, was screened in Greenwich Library's Cole Auditorium on Friday, March 24 at 8 pm, and was followed by a Q&A session with the artist.

Corrugated World will include Grashow's well-known corrugated series of cavorting monkeys, colorful fish, "Houseplants" with miniature houses nestled amid flower petals, and exquisitely feathered, life-sized "Cardbirds." A number of his masterful woodcut prints, powerfully graphic and highly detailed, will also be displayed. The artist, who has worked as an illustrator for newspapers and magazines including the New York Times, illustrated album covers for high-profile musical groups including Jethro Tull, Yardbirds, Ramsey Lewis Trio, and The Chieftains.

A public talk, "Coffee with the Curators," will be offered in the gallery on Thursday, April 6 at 11am.

Flinn Gallery is supported by the Friends of Greenwich Library and this exhibit was sponsored by Citarella. The exhibit was curated by Margot Clark-Junkins and Karen Sheer.
